Imaginary friends are fun

When there's noone else around

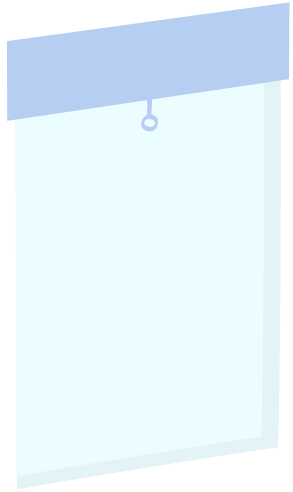

To be there when you're lonely

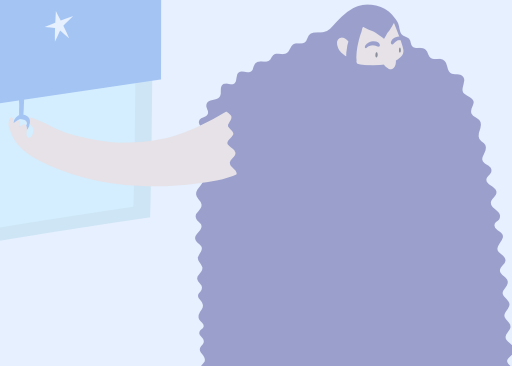

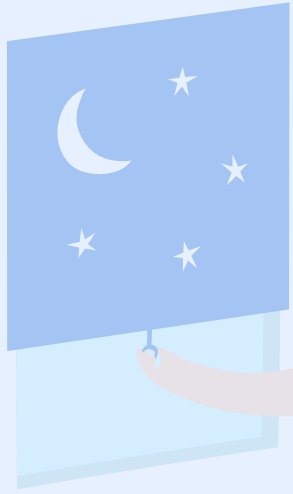

And listen when you're down

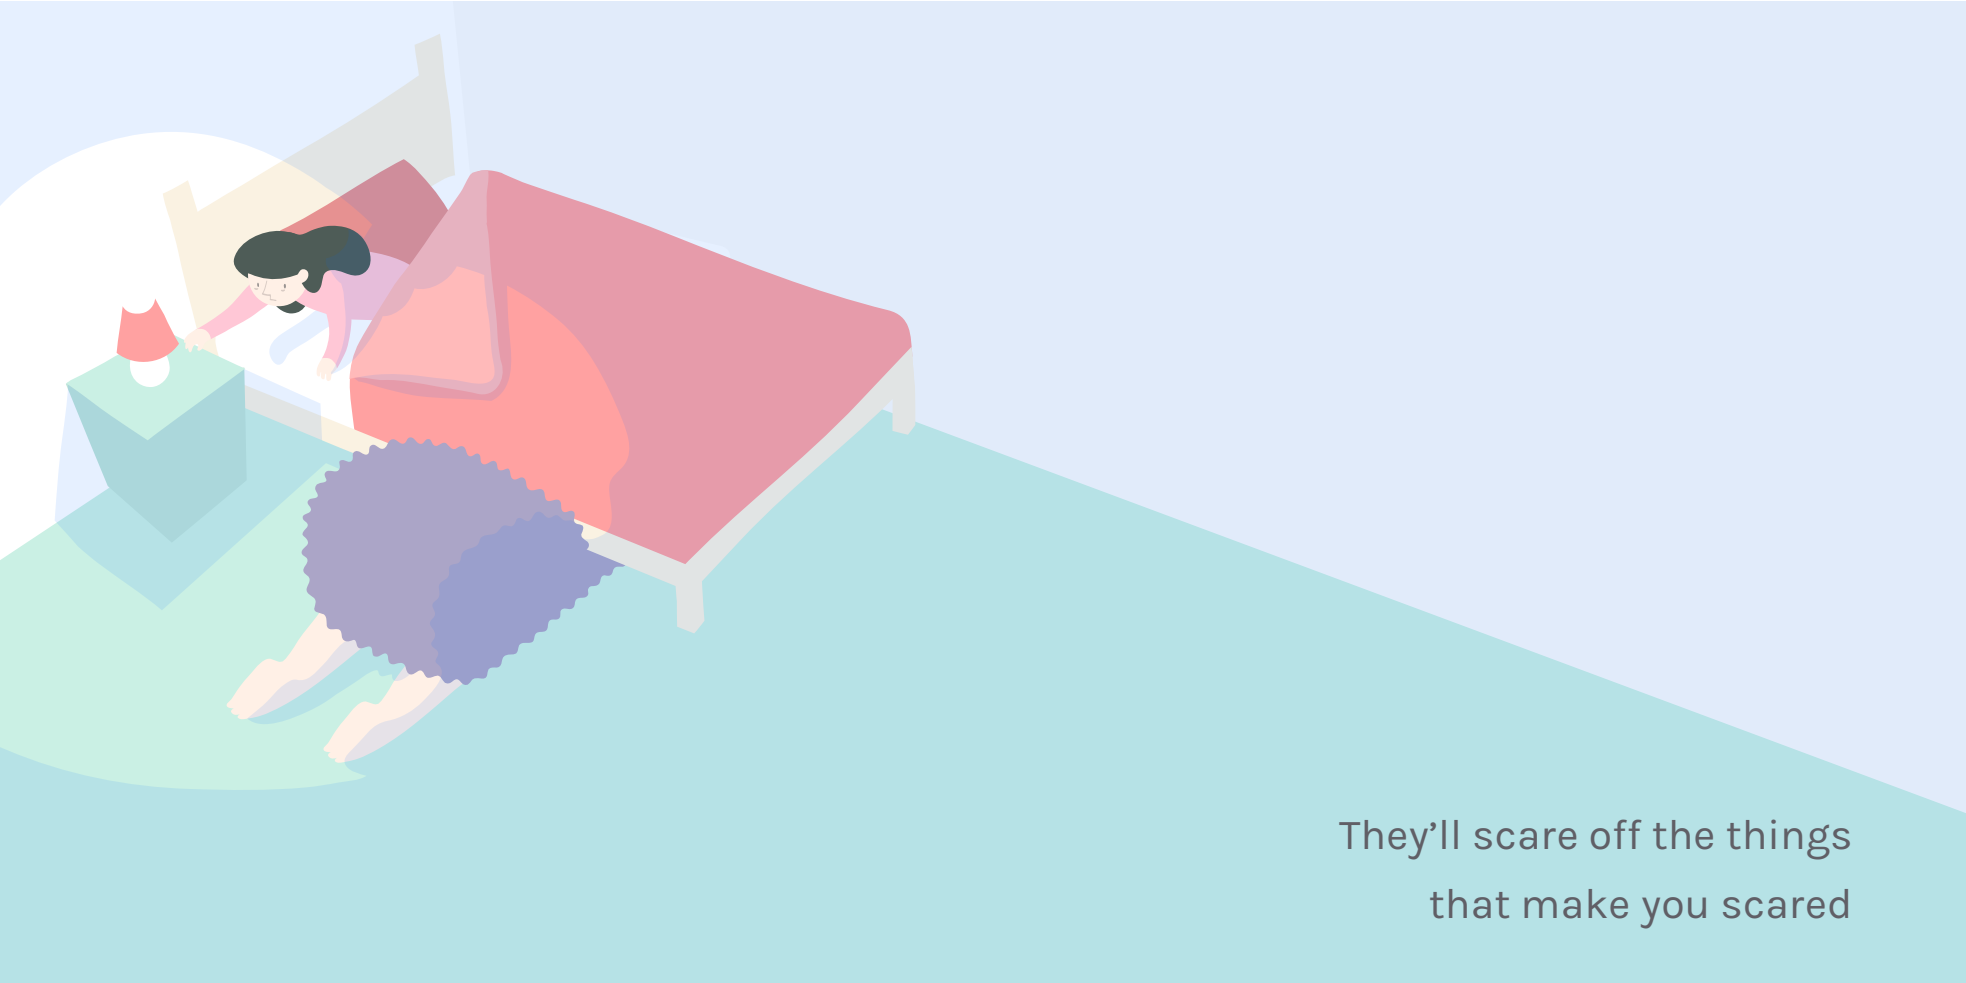

They'll tell you things you want to hear

And stay with you all night

They'll scare off the things that make you scared

And make sure you're alright

But nobody wants to meet your friend

And don't care how you feel

Imaginary friends are fun

But they're not fucking real.
